Under God

Rev. Dr. Bob Fuller
Senior Pastor

Every school day, millions of American children recite these familiar words:

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

I believe that the two most important words of the pledge are the words "under" and "God." These two words did not appear in the original version of the pledge, crafted by Francis Bellamy in 1892.

On February 7, 1954, the Rev. George M. Docherty, pastor of New York Avenue Presbyterian Church in Washington, D. C. preached a sermon, suggesting that the words "under God" be added to the pledge. In that sermon, Reverend Docherty quoted the last line of the Gettysburg address:

...that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom -- and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Docherty preached that Lincoln's words "under God" captured something definitive about our aspirations as a nation. For that reason, he enthusiastically argued that the words "under God" should be added to the Pledge of Allegiance.

In attendance that day was President Dwight D. Eisenhower. The President was so inspired by the pastor's passionate plea that he added his weight to an ongoing debate about the wording of the pledge and on June 14, 1954, the words "under God" became part of our national creed.

In the last few months (and especially in the last few weeks) those words have taken on a new depth of meaning for me. Right now, we need to remember those words "Under God," and the special affirmation they represent. They are a reminder that we believe that God is real and that Jesus Christ is Lord. They tell us that God loves His people, and that He loves his creation. They claim the promises that our Heavenly Father knows us by name and that He hears our prayers.

In that spirit, I would like to share with you a prayer by the Hon. Condoleezza Rice, former Secretary of State and a fellow Presbyterian (Menlo Church, ECO). It was a prayer that she offered in 2016, but it is as relevant now as it was then.

Oh, dear Heavenly Father,

We come to You with heavy hearts. We come to you with confused minds. We come to you with sinking spirits, but we come to you, too, knowing that we can always count on You. We are so grateful as a people and as a church to have a friend in You, to whom we can bring all of our concerns, all of our trials and tribulations, and we do that now.

Dear Heavenly Father, we pray for the victims of the violence of last week ...and the victims of violence in weeks past, in years past, in our cities and our country and our world. We ask you to protect, dear Heavenly Father, those who protect us and protect our rights — our men and women of law enforcement and those amazing men and women in uniform, who protect us on the front lines of freedom — who volunteer to defend us at the front lines of freedom across the world.

Dear Heavenly Father, we acknowledge as the American people our dark past, our history of oppression coming from our birth defect of slavery, of prejudice. We recognize that the wounds and the stain, that the pain still lingers today, and that it shadows our relationships with one another and sows division.

But dear Heavenly Father, that is not the future we want for our country. We do not want that division to continue to shadow our future, or the future of our children or our grandchildren, and so we turn to You. We know that there are no easy answers, but the answers will come through You.

Dear Heavenly Father, as a nation and as a people we need to race again toward you, into the embrace of your loving arms. Dear Heavenly Father, we pray for guidance, we pray for wisdom for our leaders, and we pray that each and every one of us will leave this place justified by faith and secure and confident in your deep, deep love for us. And that from that confidence and security of our relationship with You, we will go out into the world as instruments of your peace, as instruments of the reconciliation that you seek from us, and as instruments of your love. That each and every day, dear Heavenly Father, we will search and ask that we can be a blessing to one another, as you have been a blessing to us. These things we ask in the name of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

Amen.

Grace and Peace,
Bob Fuller

Dominican Republic

Global Missions Makes Virtual Impact

Over the past months the COVID-19 pandemic altered plans and operations across the globe. Though this season has been challenging in many ways, it has also opened up new avenues for us to connect with our Global Mission Partners in some new ways.

Carrie Everson, Director of Young Adults and Young Women's Ministries at FPC, was excited to lead a team to the Dominican Republic to partner with El Cercadillo, a community where Food for the Hungry is currently investing and working. As the pandemic hit, we quickly realized it would not be feasible to take this trip in June. The team was so disappointed, and thought they would have to wait another year to go.

Though the team was unable to go to the DR in person, the Holy Spirit continued to move as the idea for a Virtual Mission Trip was born. The staff from Food for the Hungry were excited about this opportunity and planning began. On Wednesday, June 10, a team of 15 people "traveled" to the Dominican Republic via Zoom to meet and connect with Food for the Hungry staff as we learned about the ministry and the El Cercadillo community. The evening was a great success and encouragement to all who attended!

The group received a traditional Dominican recipe for tostones (fried plantains) that the team was able to make in their homes as they shared a virtual "meal" together. As the team enjoyed this meal, they were able to hear from Food for the Hungry staff as they told stories of God's faithfulness and how He is moving and bringing about holistic, gospel-centered transformation in the community of El Cercadillo. It was a beautiful time of laughter, sharing, and learning more about the work of Food for the Hungry. Another highlight was the testimony from Carlos, a local staff member with Food for the Hungry in the DR. He shared his story of growing up in a community where FH was working, and about his relationship with a family from the U.S. who sponsored him.

Our church has the great opportunity to come alongside someone like Carlos and see them grow into a phenomenal leader for God's Kingdom. We are excited to continue to partner with Food for the Hungry and look forward to a time when we are able to travel to El Cercadillo in person!

To learn more about El Cercadillo and upcoming ways to connect and serve, contact Carrie@fpcsat.org or Lindsays@fpcsat.org.

ith the impact of Covid-19 effecting all areas of our lives this year, the church's role as an essential evangelical presence of spiritual inspiration and support is becoming more crucial each day. As a result, First Pres has responded!

In May, after internal meetings and strategic evaluation of needs, your Session approved a landmark initiative to bring FPC to the forefront of real-time livestreaming. Partnering with San Antonio Sound and Light and adopting an aggressive timeline, the Communications team implemented and added state-of-the-art equipment, technology and human resources, and rolled out our new format for both Traditional and Contemporary services for quality, real-time viewing.

In light of continued challenges to having on-site services, our livestream provides a platform for Covenant Partners, and anyone seeking God's grace, to remain in touch and active with our church, pastors and ministries.

New sound board technology for the Sanctuary was added as part of our livestream initiative.

Covenant Hall & Vimeo

Along with these improvements, feeds to Covenant Hall for overflow situations were also installed, and FPC adopted a new video platform called Vimeo, providing improved audio/visual quality for online viewing.

Livestream Upgrades Bring New Platform for FPC Outreach & Ministry

HANK CHERRY

Director of Communications

State-of-the-art cameras discreetly positioned and controlled remotely provide crisp, quality video from both venues

Sanctuary

In our Sanctuary, we have resurrected use of the loft side-camera closet, equipping it with a two-man recording station to orchestrate feeds from three discreetly-mounted video cameras and the sound board microphones. Graphics and text overlays utilizing Pro Presenter software are also used during the broadcast. Both the livestream and audio/visual booth personnel maintain constant contact by headset communications. A new sound board was also purchased and installed to replace the old unit in the loft sound booth.

Westminster Hall

In Westminster Hall, two mounted cameras along the back wall are used with the same process. The recording room, stationed in the administrative offices area, utilizes an identical system and software to stream our 11:02 Contemporary Service live.

Computer upgrades in Westminster Hall's A/V Booth (above) and new broadcasting desk (below) provide improved visual presentation online and onsite.

Media Coordinator Ross Brown leads livestream recording sessions for both the 11:02 Contemporary Service (booth pictured above) and the Traditional Service.

Covenant Partners can access Sunday morning services live or on-demand through our new Vimeo platform any time or through YouTube.

Livestream Access Options

You have numerous ways to enjoy FPC's services remotely: by computer, mobile device, or – most optimally – home television. Services can be watched live, or “on demand” afterward.

Here are options and guidelines for accessing Sunday Services:

Website: Both services are available in real time in the video block in the middle of the front page and at fpcsanantonio.org/media. For convenience, we've created separate Traditional and Contemporary Service pages where you can view the services as well.

Mobile App: The home screen has a graphic you can click to view either of our services within the app.

Eblast: Each Sunday morning, an eblast is sent to our entire email database, reminding you of that Sunday's services and providing a link to the videos on the website.

Home Smart TV: Using the Internet navigation on your TV, access fpcsanantonio.org, click the designated link to either service, and then click the full screen view option!

Streaming Device with TV (Roku, Fire, Apple TV, etc.): Subscribe to our church's channel on YouTube or Vimeo for quick weekly access to watch the service through either the YouTube or Vimeo apps.

Despite our continued challenges to spreading the Word, First Pres will continue to persevere and be a beacon to our community to Love Christ, Love One Another, and Love the City!

The Exciting Children's Committee: Needs You!

ROZLYN MILLER

Ministry Director to Children and their Families

Are you looking for somewhere to serve in the church? Are you interested in gathering with believers who believe Ministry begins at home in the cradle? Look no further! We invite you to be part of the team on Children's Committee. Our committee gathers once a month to discuss projects, programs, upcoming events, curriculum, outreach, and families. Our mission is to shine Jesus on all kids who enter FPC, from age 0 to 5th grade! Sure, we get to do fun, great things such as Vacation Bible School, Parent's Night Out, the annual Easter Egg Hunt, PJ's and Pancakes, and more! But you will find that each one of our committee members has a passionate heart for Jesus and His church body as a unit. It's a committee made up of people who want to love the children and their families. These individuals want to grow disciples and nourish spiritually the least among us. I would love for you to partner with us, and I'm asking for your time and commitment, which is essential for sustaining a strong, connected church. If the Holy Spirit is talking to you, call me today. We can't wait to meet you! You are loved, praying for you and God's will.

KEYS

Do you remember when Zoom was associated with getting somewhere fast or a noise that we made playing with cars and trucks with our kids and grandkids. Today it has a whole new meaning for us and we are thankful for the opportunities we have had to stay connected.

Who knew we could come together and learn about one-room school houses of the 1800's or the history of our American Flag, or enjoy some good clean comedy and at least feast our eyes on the sweet gold of Vermont Maple Syrup?

Looking forward to some great times together in July. In the works are a visit from a historical figure, information on keeping fit, and a visit with a local police officer.

Remember, if you need to continue your driver discount you can go to the AARP website and look for the online Driver's Safety course. You can register for the class and will have 60 days to complete it.

REV. DR. JOE MOORE

Minister for older adults and congregational care.

I hope you are continuing to take advantage of the Sunday Morning online services and many other offerings throughout the week. The switch to online streaming has not been as seamless as we hoped, but we are working hard to improve our presentations each week. Beginning July 5, you are invited to join me in our Zoom Room to view the service together and connect with each other on Sundays.

Praying that you and your families are safe and well.

Keep On Trusting!!
- Joe

FIRST CUP READINGS JULY, 2020

Dear Family in Christ,

First Cup is designed to assist you in the habit of daily Bible reading and prayer. The name is to remind you that as you reach for your first cup of morning coffee or tea, reach also for your Bible and prayer list. The prayers at the beginning of each week are taken from hymns, sometimes found in obscure hymnals in my library. They are intended to be read as your beginning prayer, to focus your mind on the daily readings that follow. May this spiritual discipline strengthen you as you face each day.

Blessings and love in Christ, Sandy Sturch

STUDENT VIRTUAL MISSION TRIP

ALEX CLARY

Ministry Director to Youth & their Families

The youth ministry team has been working hard to continue to minister to our teenage students during this time. In an effort to equip the students to serve their community and the kingdom of God during the summer, the youth ministry will be participating in a virtual mission trip the week of July 20-24. Throughout the week, students will partner with several FPC Mission Partners to discover, develop and deploy their gifts.

As this mission week has moved to an online format, the youth will be able to serve locally and globally! Two projects will include the KRL at FPC and AMO Mexico. As the students serve through the KRL, they will meet to assemble hygiene bags for our neighbors in downtown San Antonio. These bags will be handed out through the KRL as our neighbors continue to be connected with our partners in the KRL, seeking holistic transformation of their lives.

Through AMO Mexico, the FPC Youth will join in on ZOOM calls to help teach English to children in the Oaxaca region of Mexico, with the hope that relationships will be formed to share the gospel with the children. Chris and Francelia McReynolds, directors of AMO Mexico, shared their excitement for the opportunity for AMO students to build gospel-centered relationships as they learn from and connect with the FPC Youth!

Other engagements with local missions agencies are in the works as well. Our prayer is the students will be stirred by the Spirit to share the love of Christ to those in need, both locally and abroad. We ask that you pray for our team and for our students. If your teenager would be interested in participating, please contact Alex at alexc@fpcsat.org!
