MARCH 2016 ISSUE • FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS

DO YOU BELIEVE IN MIRACLES?!

BY REV. DR. RONALD SCATES • INTERIM SENIOR PASTOR

Wilderness. Lent is a time of wilderness—which means that, this year, March is a month of wilderness. Lent is the 40 days (excluding Sundays) from Ash Wednesday to Easter, a time when we are encouraged to remember and think upon the 40 days that Jesus spent in the wilderness as He began His earthly ministry (Luke 4:1-12). But if you're like me, you also have an unwanted familiarity with wilderness experiences of your own. You may call them “being down,” or being spiritually dry, or the dark night of the soul. Your wilderness times may be intentional (delayed gratification), or something you didn't sign up for. Wilderness just happens. No one is exempt—no matter how solid in the faith. In fact, all the great saints (and this is why it can be so edifying to read the biographies and autobiographies of well-known Christians) talk of their inevitable times of dryness, spiritual poverty, struggles with doubt and sin, and their dark nights of the soul.

Not to trivialize anyone's pain, but a "wilderness time" occurs for me each year as soon as the Super Bowl ends. GO SPURS and all that, but I'm just not a basketball guy. So when the NFL championship trophy is hoisted by the winning team, a darkness settles in on me that won't be lifted—a sports wilderness journey begins that will not end until that first pitch on Opening Day in April. Then, once again, all's right with the world.

Yet, over the years, I've discovered that the wilderness can be quite starkly beautiful. It's when I'm in pain, it's when I am most fragile and vulnerable, it's when not all is going well and sweetness and light take a backseat to darkness and depression that I find myself drawn toward, and most connected to, Christ—which is really the best place one can be. Once, in the darkest night I've ever experienced, I actually went all the way to the bottom. The fear and the horror were all-consuming—something I cannot express in words—and there, on the bottom, was Jesus. “I am with you always...” is a promise that nothing can stop Him from keeping. The Good News of the Gospel, my friends, is this: the bottom holds.

I believe it's in the wilderness that you and I are honed most effectively toward the mind of Christ, not when we're on the verdant mountaintop on the sunniest of days. Indeed, it appears that there just might be a Good Friday prerequisite before you, and I can really celebrate an Empty Tomb. Sometimes, it's in the plainness and aridity of the desert, when we're least distracted by all the world's glitz and glam, that you and I truly can see the face and hear the still small voice of the Savior. C S Lewis talks about God whispering to us in our joys but shouting to us in our pain. That's when I've heard Him most clearly.

This Lent “enjoy” the wilderness journey. It can shape you and equip you for real life—and death. Immerse yourself in the very things the happy world shuns: repentance and confession. Take a hard, long, stark look at your own mortality, and then remember: this, too, will pass. Easter is coming and cannot be stopped. In the wilderness, Jesus stared death in the eye—and death blinked. Wilderness is only for a season. Have a most blessed and joyous Resurrection Day!

EXCITEMENT IS BUILDING FOR PROJECT 240!

2016 will be our fifth year to partner with Habitat for Humanity in our annual all church service event.

On April 3rd after worship, we’ll share lunch together then transform our FPC parking lot into a construction site filled with fellowship, framing materials, and fun. Our goal is to build the frames of 5 houses in 240 minutes (or less!). No construction expertise is necessary and everyone is welcome to participate. Children over age 5 are welcome to build alongside parents, and childcare is provided for the event if you register online. God has blessed our initial fundraising efforts, so we only need another $15,000 to reach our goal of $38,000 for this event.

Please register online now and make sure to indicate if you want a $5 lunch, and one of our NEW 5-year anniversary t-shirts for $5!

LITERATURE CIRCLE

If you have taken Texas highway 87 from Fredericksburg to Mason, you have driven through what once was Comanche tribal land. Jan Clayton will review the book, “Empire of the Summer Moon,” for the FPC Literature Circle. The story covers two historical events. The first, the rise and fall of the Comanches, the most powerful Indian tribe in American history. Incensed by the invasion of their tribal lands by the white settlers, they forced the creation of the Texas Rangers and the six-gun. The second event is the saga of Cynthia Ann Parker, a 9 year-old girl kidnapped by the Comanches in 1836. She grew to love her captors and produced a famous mixed-blood son, Quanah, who became the last and greatest chief of the Comanches.

Bring a friend and join us Tuesday, March 8 in the McCullough Room for a great review of American and Texas hill country history.

WHAT IS 11:02?

WHAT IS 11:02?

This is an answer seven months in the making.

I'm originally from the Houston area and my family and I had just spent two years in rural Washington State. I had accepted a call to be the Contemporary Worship Director at First Pres, which brought us back to the great state of Texas and to one of our favorite cities. One of the reasons we accepted the call to the church was how multi-faceted the community of the contemporary service was. It was a beautiful gumbo of races, genders, and backgrounds. People from different stages of life and varied stories. There was a unique setup that valued and invited families to worship together, led by a brilliant group of volunteers who loved the church, and loved the unique makeup and mission of this service.

The idea behind 11:02 was to share with and invite people to experience this community. We wanted to give it a unique identity. The concept was simple; there's this great community at FPC and we want to let people know they were welcome, as they are to experience great worship, topical teaching and warm community.

We are excited to introduce the new name and logo. We have updated our connection cards and welcome bag for new visitors to help everyone feel welcome, and at home.

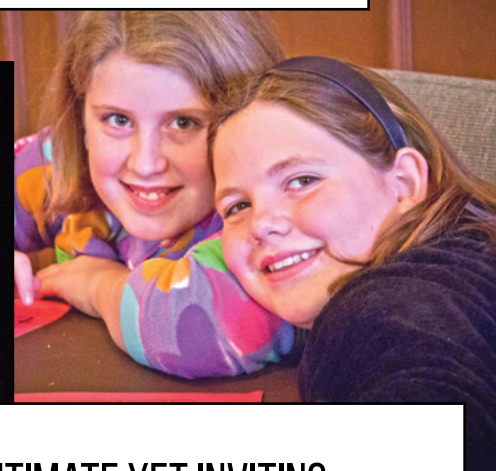

What hasn't changed is the heart of the service. This is still a wonderful, family-like atmosphere, full of stories of victory, some of defeat, happiness and grief, and most importantly, stories of grace, healing, and reconciliation through Jesus.

“EXPERIENCE GOOD FRIDAY THROUGH CHORAL MUSIC ”
THE 11TH ANNUAL MARY JEAN ROGERS MEMORIAL CONCERT
FRIDAY, MARCH 25 AT 7:30 PM

Join us on Friday evening, March 25, at 7:30 p.m. in the sanctuary as we experience Good Friday through the music of Bob Chilcott, composer, conductor, and former member of the renowned ‘King’s Singers’.

This year, our Sanctuary Choir will be joined by brass, solo string instruments and several guest soloists, to perform a musical setting of the Passion narrative from the Gospel of John. This one-hour work recounts the story of Christ’s trial and Crucifixion, using a similar musical form employed by J.S. Bach in his monumental settings of both the St. John and St. Matthew passions. The story is told by a narrator in the role of an evangelist, with solo voices filling the role of Jesus, Pilate, and Peter. Chilcott employs the choir in the drama as both the crowd and as a group of soldiers. The choir will also sing several beautiful meditations that reflect on the human response to seeing Christ crucified on the cross.

This concert offering is made possible through the Mary Jean Rogers Choral Endowment of First Presbyterian Church, and each year honors the memory of Mary Jean Rogers, the mother of our own Jean Rogers Winchell, and their shared love of the church and great choral music. We hope you will join us for this one hour concert, as we direct our hearts and minds to the suffering and death of Christ on the cross.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN BY ANN DENNIS

“A TIME TO PLANT” ECCLESIASTES 3:2 PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN AT MISSION ROAD MINISTRIES

WELCOME to spring! As we look forward to our upcoming events, we encourage you to mark your calendars for one of our favorites, the PW Spring Luncheon. We are delighted to have New York Times bestselling author, Melanie Shankle, as our speaker. Please note that reservations are required. Your $20 check may be mailed to Holly Youngquist, 109 Cobblestone Court, San Antonio, TX 78213. Please make your check payable to FPC with “PW Luncheon” in the memo line. For further details, please see the Save the Date notice included in this edition of First Press. We anticipate a beautiful and joyful day and do hope that you will join us on April 4th. The doors will open at 11:00 AM with the luncheon to begin at 11:30.

Though our January 28th Evening Event was held on what could have been a shivering winter night, we were blessed with a beautiful spring-like evening at La Fonda on Main. The eighty ladies who attended were treated to a delicious dinner, great door prizes, and a wonderful time to visit with one another. Many thanks to the Ladies’ Night Out Committee consisting of Anne Scates, Cynthia Robinson, Becky DeWees, Linda Gail Dullnig, and Michele Barker. Also, we owe deep gratitude to Mr. Cappy Lawton for his generous hospitality as well as to his staff for their excellent and cheerful service.

As our year enters the spring season, I would like to showcase our circle moderators, who faithfully have taught our current study, “The Liturgical Calendar”. Sincere appreciation is extended to Kay Case and Pat Brodeen, who serve as the PW Moderator Chairmen; to Sandy Sturch, who has written the study notes; and to all the moderators, who attend the monthly meetings where they review and discuss the lesson. Afterward, using their individual teaching gifts, they instruct the members of their respective circles. Thank you, moderators, for making Jesus visible through the teaching of God’s word.

I would also like to showcase The Christianity and Literature Circle where members and guests are treated to an always wonderful book review on the second Tuesday of each month at 1 PM in the McCullough Room. Included is a picture of Circle Chair Jeanne Browning and Becky Crouch Patterson (top middle on the opposite page), author of the award winning book, “The Ranch That Was Us”. The three remaining presentations for this year are as follows: “Empire of the Summer Moon” on March 8; “Under the Wide and Starry Sky” on April 12; and “The Boys in the Boat” on May 10. Visitors (men and women) are always welcome, and delicious refreshments are served.

Wishing you a beautiful spring ~

KEYS BY PAT MCCLEARY

February started with another memorable performance by Rick Cavender and His Band. This is the tenth year that he's entertained us with an unofficial Rodeo kick-off. Once again we had a delightful time celebrating our annual February birthdays and Valentine's Day at the beautiful Oak Hills Country Club. We slowed down for one of Maurilio's hamburger lunches and watched the movie, "The Book Thief." Our month was completed by Manuela Stafford reviewing her book, "Searching the Ruins" that completed our month. Now come and join us as we move on to March.

HISTORY CORNER BY BILL COGBURN

CANNON BALL MYSTERY

An inventory of the church archives has revealed an unusual item—an old rusty cannon ball. It's about a ten-pounder according to my bathroom scales.

Is it from the Texas Revolution or the Civil War? Someone in the congregation must know its history. There's a good story waiting to be told. Please help me tell it. Please respond to bcogburn@satx.rr.com

(Correction) The photo which accompanied the article on Wool Clips in the February 2016 newsletter should have been captioned as follows: This October 1942 photo shows First Pres members, Mrs. J. B. MOMENTS TO HOLD CLOSE | LIFE IN THE SWAMP | BY MANNY RODRIGUEZ

I was speaking to a coworker of mine and listened intently as he vividly described the experiences with his previous employment. “It’s a swamp—and the problem with living in a swamp is you forget about the smell after a while. You grow accustomed and lured in by the warm waters, and you tell yourself the crocodiles are just a part of normal life.”

Oh, how awful does that sound? Or more importantly, how truthfully does that description ring in your own life? Sadly I have found many people feel this exact same way, and not solely in their professional lives but more importantly in their personal life as well as their relationship with God. For those that have children I will ask, is this what you would desire for your kids? Well, your heavenly Father does not either. Start today by allowing your olfactory senses to reengage and recognize the stench of your existing swamp and acknowledging that our Lord and Saviour is standing on the shore begging you to grab His hand so that He may remove you from your quandary so that you may stand next to Him on the pleasant prairie of peace and salvation where you belong.

CUT OUT THE FORM BELOW TO ORDER YOUR EASTER LILLIES
